DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

SUNDAY.....AUGUST 5, 1879.

C. C. POWNING, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR

The Belle Isle Mining Company have declared a dividend of 50c per share, payable on the 5th.

The Gubernatorial situation in Massachusetts is thus described by the Boston Advertiser: "As it stands now Governor Talbot wants to retire, but everybody else seems determined that he shall run; while Butler wants to run, and everybody else is entirely willing he should retire."

An enthusiastic Battle Mountaineer writes the Sentinel that ground will be broken with great ceremony on the Battle Mountain & Austin Railroad this week. Breaking ground, however, does not indicate that work will be continued on the road or that it will be built in the near future.

We have received copies of the premium list for the twenty-sixth annual Fair of the California States Agricultural Society, which is to commence September 13th. It is bound in a neat pamphlet form, and contains a list of all the district and country fairs, and when held in California, It embraces besides the list of premiums, the speed programme, and the full rules of the State Agricultural Society.

Hon. Newton Booth and M. M. Estee addressed a crowded Republican meeting at Platt's Hall in San Francisco on Thursday night. The speakers met with an enthusiastic reception, and placed themselves squarely on record for Perkins and the party. The Chronicle will now say that Booth has sold out to the railroads.

Protestantism is said to be rapidly winning converts from the Catholics, several instances in point being reported recently from Louisiana. During the episcopate of Bishop Wilmer he received 400 such converts; two are formed entirely of them, and a church at Rome, N. Y., consisting of fifty families, came over from Catholicism three years ago.

The Union Consolidated Mining Company have levied an assessment of $2 per share, amounting to $200,000, delinquent September 3d. This makes the third assessment in four months, one of $1 50 having been levied in April, and another of $2 in June. With the collection of the present assessment $550,000 will have been paid in for the development of this mine since April 1st.

Edison has spent a vast fortune in his inventions, but as he has made it all from them, and more also, he can afford to go ahead, and more also, he can for his electric light has cost him $13,000, his lamp, not yet complete, $8,000; insulating wires by a new method, $3,000, his electric meter, $2,000; the dynamometer, $3,000. He told a reporter recently that the cost of his electric light experiments and machinery amounted to about $45,000, and he would yet have to go to much expense before perfecting the invention.

The Journal des Debats cannot help remarking how fatal the name of Napoleon. The first faded away at St. Helena under the eyes of an English jailer; the last dies at 23 in the service of England by a Zulu assagas. The mind is overwhelmed by the terrible coincidence brought about by fate at certain times and in certain families, and it is impossible not to feel a painful impression when we think of that career, commenced at the Tuileries, to end in Africa in a fight which cannot even boast a name.

GENERAL GRANT ON THE CHINESE.—A Washington special gives the following letter from General Grant, dated Peking, June 7th: "I have now been in Peking three days, and have seen all that is of interest in the city. I found China and the Chinese much as you have often described them. It is not a country or people calculated to invite travel or to make a second visit to; but the Chinese are a people of wonderful shrewdness and industry, and are rapidly monopolizing trade as carriers, merchants, marketers and servants, from Bombay eastward. Then, too, there leading men seem to have a thorough appreciation of the necessity for internal improvements, such as railroads, etc., but have a horror of introducing them with foreign capital and under foreign management. Their idea seems to be rather to educate a sufficient number of their young men abroad to fit them as engineers, machinists, soldiers, sailors, etc., and then to make their improvements with their own men and means. My belief is that in less time from now than half a century Europe will be complaining of the rapid advance of China."

LONDON LETTER.

(Regular Correspondence)

LONDON, July 16th, 1879.

In a recent address Lord Derby expressed the opinion that the present condition of agricultural depression is not due to permanent, but to temporary causes. He thinks that, while with regard to products that are not perishable—such, for instance, as cereals, America may beat England in the arena of competition, still "in meat, milk, and vegetables, and some other articles of produce, England ought to be able to hold her own. Great Britain has against her cheapness and abundance of land in other quarters of the globe and she has in her favor nearness of the markets, for even ocean steamers will not reduce the Atlantic to a mere ferry.

LORD DERBY

And his class would do well to look more closely at this aspect of the problem. It is not to bad seasons or low prices that English farmers must trace woes, for I could mention years when prices and seasons have been pretty nearly as bad as they are now. The one novel element in the present distress appears to be that British agriculture is now for the first time brought into close and keen competition with foreign husbandry, in circumstances which give the latter an absolute advantage. The English food factory—for Lord Derby correctly described a farm by that term—has to support two families, one at least in decent ease and the other in affluence and luxury—the family of the occupant and that of the owner. The American or Colonial food factory, on the other hand has only to support one family—that of the farmer—in moderate comfort. A concern which has to pay two profits cannot naturally run against a business only burdened with one, and that,

WITH CHEAP LAND,

Is the plain reason why the American agriculturist is owning the English farmer. One portion of Lord Derby's speech leads me to suspect that some suspicion of this stern truth crossed his mind, for he asks: Can we make things better by establishing a class of cultivators who shall be also freeholders? In other words, can we mend matters by creating holdings which will have to pay not two profits but only one? It is a hard question to answer, and Lord Derby can but say he would like to see the experiment tried. This, at least, is to the point. We want, as he says, no new law to imitate it, and if a company of reformers were to set about buying up some of the land which is gradually becoming a drug in the market, and if they would then let it out in small holdings we might put them to

THE TEST.

There is no fear that nowadays they might by met with discouraging sneers from economists of the almost defunct M. Culloch school. They run no risk of being denounced as theorists who would cover the land with a population of lazy, drunken, starvelings, or with holdings which would by infinite subdivisions dwindle into mere garden-plots. We know too well how thrifty and industrious peasant proprietors are in France and Belgium. In the former, so far from producing over population, the effect of peasant proprietorship is rather to check the multiplication of the people. So far from growing no more food than will suffice for their own consumption,

PEASANT PROPRIETORS

In the Channel islands get three times as much food per acre out of their land as that got by tenants of large farms in England. Altogether, however, in respect of its good sense and thoughtful suggestiveness, Lord Derby's speech is a most valuable contribution to the present controversy.

It is quite a matter of doubt whether Sarah Bernhardt (1) will come to America; and (2) whether, being here, she will make the strong impression that has attended her extraordinary career in France and England. The fact that she does not understand the English language will be a serious drawback to her artistic success on a large scale outside of New York.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC NOTES.

Irving, the great English tragedian, will not come to America this year.

It has been stated that Salvini is under engagement to come to the United States next autumn, but the London Figaro denies the report.

A London journal states that Miss Emma Thursby will sail from England for America in October, and will remain here for three months.

It is said that Mlle. Berhardt is studying English with might and main, and learning it rapidly. Her present ambition is to play Lady Macbeth.

Miss Neilson opens at the Haymarket Theatre about the 1st of August for a short Shakespearian season, "Romeo and Juliet" and "As You Like It" being the principal plays.

ISAACS FREDRICK'S new stock of jewelry, watches, clocks, etc., is the most complete and finest ever brought to Reno.

TRADE WITH TROPICAL COUNTRIES.

The Times' Washington corespondent has been making an examination of trade reports giving the value of commerce between the United States and the countries of the American continent lying South of us, and presents statistics showing that the value of the merchandise annually received from those countries is nearly three times greater than the value of domestic products annually exported to them from the United States. The efforts now being made by the business men of the United States to increase our commerce cannot fail, if properly and intelligently pursued, to be successful. There seems to be no reason why the merchants of the United States should permit European countries to monopolize the trade of Mexico and South America, particularly as many of the articles now imported into these countries from European markets are grown or manufactured in the United States. The domestic exports from the United States to the countries named are now confined to a few staples and articles of American manufacture, such as clothing, hats, caps, boots and shoes, agricultural implements, wagons, carts, etc. These constitute a comparatively trifling figure in the aggregate of exports. Inquiries are constantly being made at the State Department by business men concerning the facilities of trade with those countries, showing a rapid growth of interest in the subject. The aggregate value of the domestic merchandise of this country exported last year to the Southern countries was $58,357,078, against $157,016,319, the value of the merchandise received. It is certain that American capital and enterprise are being rapidly turned in this direction.

POLITICAL CASTING.

A prominent Democratic politician of Washington, who has recently held a long consultation with Tilden on political topics, says that Tilden expresses some doubts as to whether he will be able to secure the Presidential nomination next year. It seems that Tilden fears that the detections in the South added to the opposition in the West, may ruin his chances. In the conversation the names of other possible candidates were mentioned and their prospects discussed. Tilden is reported to have said regarding David Davis, that the Democrats can not afford to and will not run a man next year who has not always been known as a consistent and thorough Democrat. The salvation of the Democratic party depends on the course, and no matter how obscure the candidate his Democracy must be unquestioned. Pressed to name a candidate aside from himself who would answer all the requirements, he is said to have remarked that Justice Field of California appeared to him to be the strongest and most available man; that Field's relatives are very wealthy, and would be willing to spend a million or two if he were nominated; that the Pacific States would undoubtedly be solid in his favor and that he would stand a better chance in New York and other doubtful Northern States than any of the other candidates whose merits had been discussed. Tilden is reported also to have said, however, he did not see how the Democrats could afford to nominate anyone except himself. He claimed that everybody knows that he is the one who was defrauded and abused; that the fraud issue would undoubtedly be the main issue in the next canvass.

SENATOR BOOTH'S SPEECH.

We heartily agree with the following comments made by the San Francisco Alta:

Every California voter should read Newton Booth's speech. It appears to us to be the ablest of all his orations which we have read or heard. The argument is conclusive on every point that he touches. The accusations which have been made freely by men eminent in the business of falsification, that George C. Perkins is the friend and tool of the Railroad Company, are matters which Mr. Booth understands. He knows the history of the fight against the subsidy question in our Legislature; he tells us that Mr. Perkins, as State Senator, was a steadfast supporter of Governor Haight, and of himself, against the Central Pacific Railroad on the subsidy question; and he assures us that there is not a particle of foundation for the railroad charge against Perkins. As that is the only accusation worthy of note, the whole case made against him fails.

Having disposed of that point, in terms which must be read in Mr. Booth's own language to get the full force of his argument, he turns to the National question and presents it in a striking light. The present position of the Democrats in Congress—the declaration of their leaders that the War of the Rebellion settled nothing—the denied not only of nationality, but of the right for the exercise of Federal power in a State without the State's consent, and the importance of California's vote to sustain the cause of the Union in the Presidential election of next year—all these points are urged in a most impressive manner. We repeat that every voter in California should read this speech; and every Republican should not only read it, but also make it a study. Even those most prejudiced against him must admit that it is masterly in oratorical art, and most opportune and effective in politics.

DOWN IN THE BELLE ISLE.

[Tuscarora Times Review.]

Yesterday afternoon, in company with Superintendent Dayton and John May, the foreman of the mine, the reporter of the Times Review made a trip through the workings of the Belle Isle. As the property is at present commanding more than an ordinary share of attention, we publish the following compilation of notes taken during the reporter's explorations. Although prepared by the healthy bullion shipments and the enthusiastic accounts of persons who had previously visited the mine, for a wonderful display of mineral wealth, the result of his observations, far exceeded the reporter's expectations, and he was fain to acknowledge that although he had seen larger bodies and richer, he had never before beheld in any mine that he had ever visited. The party descended by the old Navajo incline to the 70 foot level, from whence a drift has been run due North into the Belle Isle ground 133 feet to the Belle Isle incline. The ledge has been stoped out above the level to this point about 27 feet, leaving upwards of 40 feet of virgin ground above. The ledge thus stopped averaged nearly four feet in width of chloride ore, which milled over two hundred dollars per ton, and the lode was fully as strong and rich at the surface. The drift continues North at this level 40 feet further, but very little stoping has been done beyond the point above mentioned, as the ore is much richer than that taken from the stopes, and it is the intention of the Superintendent to reserve it until such time as the company have to give up ten of the twenty stamps which they are now running, to the Grand Prize. Mr. Dayton is confident with this ore that he can keep up, with ten stamps, the bullion shipments to their present standard. At the end of the drift at the 70 a winze has been sunk 28 feet to the intermediate level which has been run 50 feet south and 80 feet north from the bottom of the winze, all of the way on a ledge as wide and as rich as that above. The reporter than descended an upraise to the 150-foot level. The ledge which is now nearly all sulphuret ore, maintains its dimensions and quality the entire distance. The drift at the 150 is 192 feet in length, the southern terminus being the Navajo line. A winze has been sunk at the boundary line between the Navajo and Belle Isle 32 feet before the ore body gave out. Ninety feet further south is another winze at the same level in the Navajo ground in which the ore only extended down 25 feet, a showing conclusively that the chimney pitches to the north, gaining depth in that direction. Below the points last described no particularly successful developments have thus far been made. At the 250-foot level a drift has been run into the Belle Isle ground 150 feet on a small vein of rich sulphuret ore from one to eight or nine inches in width. According to the dip of the chimney above it is estimated that about 50 feet further will have to be run before striking the main body. If at that depth the ledge should correspond in size and quality with that above, twenty dollars per share would by no means be an extravagant price for the stock; but the developments below are yet to be made and of course the result is problematical. The showing already made above the 150 however is sufficient to convince any person at all experienced in mining matters that there is nearly, if not quite as much in sight in dividends as the stock is selling for at the present time. The ledge in the openings above mentioned will average four feet in width and those acquainted with the ore are confident that it will average $250 per ton. Thirty-five hundred tons is not an unreasonable estimate of the quantity of available ore above the 150 foot level, sufficient at least to insure a fifty cent dividend for every month of the present year.

SO LARGE A BODY OF AS RICH ORE

THE SINKING OF THE RAILROAD TRACK NEAR BENICIA.

A Fairfield dispatch says: The Central Pacific Railroad Company is perhaps the best abused corporation in American extant. It has been asserted that this company was about to abandon the new route from Benicia to Suisun, connecting the bay city of San Francisco with the vast interior country by a more direct route than has yet been offered the traveling and shipping public. A very brief inspection last Wednesday evening was sufficient to convince your reporter of the falsity of this assertion. A space of probably 200 yards in the tule has occupied the attention of the operatives for months, by reason of the unaccountable sinking of the soil. Piles have been driven to an extraordinary depth, in hopes of reaching solid substratum. Ties and rails have been repeatedly laid, ballasted and lost, but the company remains determined on fighting these obstacles of nature, and bringing the road to a solid basis in some manner. Men are now employed, and all the engineering science that can be brought to bear is at work, endeavoring in some way to bridge over or to build up the curious quagmire. It will be done. There is already too much capital and energy invested to give up the route, and it must need be prosecuted to success. The public may rest assured that early in September the road will be in operation, and continue to their benefit.

The London opera season is almost ended, and the opera nightingales are preparing to fly to more congenial climes. Patti goes to Wales, Nilsson to Mont Dore, Campanini and Fancelli to Italy, Marie Roze to Mont Dore and Miss Kellogg to Paris. Albani will probably remain in England.

The Truckee Flow.

Pursuant to call about a dozen ditch owners met at the court-house yesterday afternoon, to take steps toward seeing if the Act relating to the flow of water in the Truckee could not be carried. A. J. Hatch, J. P. Foulks and A. A. Longley were appointed a Committee to have suit commenced at once in the U. S. Court, of California.

A Truckee Ditch Location.— James S. Willson and J. B. Hawthorne have recorded a notice of location of a ditch, to be known as the Wilson & Hawthorne Ditch, the place of beginning being on the right bank of the Truckee river, "from which the quarter section corner between Section 22 and 23 of Township 20 north Range 23 east bears south 11½ degrees east, 8 chains and 28 links distant, and running thence on a line to a point from which the quarter section corner between Sections 17 and 18 of Township 20 north, Range 24 east, bears north 78 degrees east, 34 chains and 50 links distant." The ditch is to divert 500 inches of water from the river.

The Solano Republican declares that the statement published—to the effect that the new Benicia railroad had encountered a "bottomless pit"—is a canard. The Republican ought to know, it is printed near by the place.

There will be divine service at the M. E. Church, to day at 11 A. M. and 7:45 P. M. Rev. C. McKelvey officiating, seats free all are invited. Sabbath school at 1 o' clock.

Hammersmith & Belz will close their barber shop at 1 o'clock to-day.

The Board of County Commissioners will be in session to-morrow.

The M. E. Sunday School will meet at 1 o'clock to-day.

The 48 has returned from Wadsworth, entirely "cured" of its late damages.

J. S. BOWKER.

A Few Outlines of His Life—A Pioneer of Washoe County—Notes.

The late John S. Bowker, whose burial takes place to-day, was born in Hinsdale, New Hampshire, fifty-three years ago. Up to 1851 he lived in the Eastern states. During that year he yielded to the gold fever then raging in California and set out for the West to seek his fortune. On June 20th of that year he landed in North San Juan, Nevada Co., where he became an honest miner, making money rapidly but spending it just as freely. On July 3, 1852, he left that place and we next hear of him as a deputy U. S. Internal Revenue Collector of Nevada, located at Washoe City,—then the county seat of Washoe county. In 1864 he was Clerk of the District Court of Washoe County, afterwards serving several terms as Deputy County Clerk. In fact ever since the county had an existence he seemed to have had more or less to do with the public affairs, thus becoming conversant with the general management of the county. He located a large tract of land on the Truckee Meadows, but not thinking it worth the taxes, let it go. We have often heard him tell of this and point out the land, which is now owned by very prosperous grangers.

At the last election he was elected Justice of the Peace of Reno Township by a majority of 33 over Robert Leeper, the next highest competitor. He entered upon the discharge of his duties on the 1st of January last, and attended to them continuously up to the day he was stricken with apoplexy. This stroke was said to have been the result of injuries received in early days in WashoeCity by being assaulted by De Witt, who wanted certain papers that the subject of this sketch, then Deputy County Clerk, refused to give up. Bowker was a long time recovering from the effects of the assault, but of late years he was not troubled by it, and thought it was a thing of the past.

In early life Mr. Bowker received a fine musical education, and in it he delighted, the organ being his favorite instrument. The singers of Reno will miss the Judge greatly. In fact when the sudden stroke befel him he was busily engaged getting up a concert for the benefit of the Women's Temperance Union, at which he was to have done most of the playing.

He was a prominent Odd Fellow, filling many offices of trust with acceptability to the Order and credit to himself. This afternoon there will doubtless be a large crowd at the funeral to do him reverence.

An Attempt to Ruin the State Prison.

A Carson correspondent writes to the Virginia Chronicle as follows: A few evenings ago an attempt was made to burn the State Prison. A small hole had been bored in the ceiling of the shoe shop, up through which a lot of combustible material had been shoved into the space between the ceiling and the roof. It was all primed and ready to be started into a conflagration. It is supposed that the prisoners hoped to make their escape in the confusion that would ensue from the fire. The authorities of the prison have as yet been unable to detect the perpetrators, but a diligent investigation is in progress.

Conference Change.

Winnemucca was appointed as the place of holding the next Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, but as it so far from all other points, and as it is desirable to have as large an attendance of lay delegates as possible, it was thought best to try to change the place of holding to Reno. Rev. Mr. McKelvey is endeavoring to have this done, with every prospect of success. Bishop Haven, who presides is now on his way to hold the Oregon Conference.

Exactly Opposite.

An advertisement appeared a few days ago to the effect that R. P. Chapin had lost a number of horses. This was diametrically wrong. The animals had strayed into his pasture and he wants to find an owner. The advertisement reads all right now. See it for description of the property.

All Quiet.

The lightning train arrived last night with Tom Clark at the throttle valve, as cool and unconcerned as if he was not the one who was standing against an entire Union. No effect was made yesterday to molest him in any way. A general uneasiness prevails, and the next step is awaited with anxiety.

The vault and safe for the Auditor and Treasurer are finished and in place, awaiting acceptance at the hands of the Commissioners. A good job has been done the county.

The Court House fence is being whitewashed, and the clover in the yard cut.

Donald McKay's Canada relatives arrived here on the overland night before last. They will keep his house for him.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

Four new cases of fever in Memphis. The disease has been declared an epidemic.

By order of the Postmaster-General the free delivery service will be established at Portland, Oregon, October 1.

Application will be made to the courts for certificates of the election of the new Directors of the Bullion and Exchequer.

Cholera is raging among the English returning to India from Afghanistan. The Tenth Hussars lost 60 men in one day, and the Seventeenth Foot 195 men.

The sentence of the court-martial in South Africa of Lieutenant Carey was death. The Queen will be advised to return him to duty, as the authorities merely find him guilty of indiscretion.

In consequence of the threatening movements of the Turks a large number of new rifles have been distributed among the Greek troops, and six new batteries of artillery completely equipped.

Wilbur Raymond, who absconded from America and was arrested in London, has been released. The American parties refused to proceed with the prosecution. Raymond is dying of consumption.

The public debt statement shows an increase for July of $6,086,344, The increase of the debt is due to the payments on account of arrears of pensions and of United States notes held for redemption of fractional currency.

State Fair Stakes.

At a meeting of the Trustees of the State Agricultural Society last evening it was ordered that the time for entries to all stake races, and No, 18, be extended to August 20th; that weights in No. 13 and No. 18 should be announced on August 25th.

Stocks were very much stronger after the Board yesterday. Sierra Nevada was 43, Union 35, Ophir 33, and all the rest better.

The body of John S. Bowker will lie in state in the hall of Truckee Lodge from 12 until 2 to-day.

A Chinaman, Wo Kee, has opened a hotel in New York, and among other substantials and delicacies his bill of fare embraces "Shee-Chee," a substance taken from inside the fins of certain fish; "Yin-Wau," a gelatine gathered from the nests in which a brood of swallows has been reared; "Ha-Han-Can," or infants' eyes, a delicate stew made from the eyes of a Chinese fish; dried lizard skin; "Tans-Pan," lean pork and maccaroni; "Gie-Pee," the skin of a young pig rosted; "Luk-tou-gou," cake of green beans; and various other compounds and concoctions, all of which are said to be excellent by those who have tried them.

Talk is Cheap.—And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes, and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishing goods, if you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. I do not boast when I say that I defy competition in prices in anything in my line. Besides this I have only one price. I have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at my establishment. My stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this State. Everything I have is new. No old, musty and out-of-date goods can be found on my shelves. I receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of my prices and examine my stock before going into those humbugging, Cheap John shops, in which they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing. I make a profit on everything I sell, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehood in the vain hope of deceiving the public. One must make a profit to live. I particularly call attention to my full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of my specialties. Remember the place. Malaria Disarmed of its Terrors.

Malaria, that fell atmospheric poison, is disarmed of its terrors, and health insured to thousands residing where the noxious exhalation periodically infects the air, and engenders intermittent and remittent fevers, by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most popular as it is the best, of preventives, alteratives and tonics. In numberless localities where the demand for sulphate of quinine was formerly immense, the hurtful alkaloid has been almost entirely supplanted by this safe, agreeable and effective substitute, which is genial in action and unobjectionable in flavor. It nullifies the influence of miasma by giving a more active impulse to every vital function, quickening and enriching the blood, overcoming a tendency to biliousness and promoting digestion.
